WILSON'S SPEECH HIGHLY PRAISED

Press and Public Men Join In Chorus of Approval.

DISCREET, ABLE, SAFE, SANE.

"Will Impress the Country Favorably," Declares William Jennings Bryan. "Admirable Pronouncement," Says Champ Clark—"Appeals Strongly to Every Legitimate Business Interest," Declares John W. Kern.

An Admirable Speech.

Gov. William J. Bryan—"Governor Wilson's speech of acceptance is admirable. It is original in its treatment of the issues of the campaign. I am sure the address will impress the country favorably."

Appeals Strongly to Every Legitimate Business Interest.

John W. Kern, Senator From Indiana—"Governor Wilson's speech of acceptance is a masterpiece, setting forth with great clearness his conception of the work to be accomplished by the Democratic party under his leadership. It is in complete harmony with the progressive sentiment of the country, but also appeals strongly to every legitimate business interest."

Will Take High Rank.

Champ Clark, Speaker of the House of Representatives—"Considered from a literary standpoint, Governor Wilson's speech of acceptance will take high rank in the political output of the year. It will make pleasant reading and therefore will prove a fetching campaign document. He discusses the issues of the day philosophically, clearly and forcibly. Its courteous tone will allay opposition and win him friends. It is an admirable pronouncement."

Battle Hymn of Democracy.

Senator Gore of Oklahoma—"The closing sentence of his speech will become the battle hymn of Democracy in the pending campaign: 'I thank God and take courage.' It is at once a paean of praise and a summons of patriotic duty."

Discreet, Able, Safe and Sane.

John E. Lamb, ex-Representative From Indiana—"Speech is discreet, able, safe and sane. Governor Wilson believes in the efficacy of the scalpel rather than the big stick. His dissection of trust and tariff evils is unique and convincing. His suggestions of reform in methods of government and reduction of tariff schedules will meet with approval of legitimate business and the laboring masses as well."

Points the Way For Justice.

Hoke Smith, Senator From Georgia—"I am delighted with Governor Wilson's speech of acceptance. It is a superb statement of the present purpose of the Democracy and points the way for justice to all through real progress by law under the constitution. With his election assured, it should give confidence to honest business and new courage to those who need a square deal."

Lays His Soul Bare.

John F. Fitzgerald, Mayor of Boston—"Governor Wilson's acceptance is characteristic of the man. He lays his soul bare to the people and asks them to join with him, irrespective of party, in righting present wrongs without undue clamor or injury to legitimate interests. He lays emphasis on constructive thinking, and I believe this epitomizes one of the nation's greatest needs at the present time. It will be President Wilson overwhelmingly in November."

Progressive, but Not Wild.

Thomas Mott Osborne, Auburn, N. Y.—"Governor Wilson's speech fits the occasion and the man—progressive, but not wild; sane, strong and unmistakably Democratic. It makes an inspiring opening of the campaign, indicating clearly and nobly the spirit in which the leaders of our regenerated Democratic party must work: not one of mere 'partisan make believe,' but of honesty and justice toward all men."

Prophetic of Success.

Governor William H. Mann of Virginia—"I think it was an admirable speech. It was wise, conservative, comprehensive, prophetic not only of Democratic success, but of Democratic supremacy for years to come."

Rings True in Every Sentence.

Governor Frederick W. Plaisted of Maine—"It is a splendid presentation of the issues for the American people. It rings true in every sentence and in every word. It represents the spirit of the Democracy of today. It is the address of a statesman."

An Admirable Presentation.

Governor Eugene Foss, Massachusetts—"It was an admirable presenta-

REVISE TARIFF UNHESITATINGLY DOWNWARD.

There should be an immediate revision of the tariff, and it should be downward, unhesitatingly and steadily downward.—From Woodrow Wilson's Speech Accepting the Democratic Nomination.

LABOR AND THE RULE OF RIGHT.

The working people of America—if they must be distinguished from the minority that constitutes the rest of it—are, of course, the backbone of the nation. No law that safeguards their life, that improves the physical and moral conditions under which they live, that makes their hours of labor rational and tolerable, that gives them freedom to act in their own interest and that protects them where they cannot protect themselves can properly be regarded as class legislation or as anything but as a measure taken in the interest of the whole people, whose partnership in right action we are trying to establish and make real and practical. It is in this spirit that we shall act if we are genuine spokesmen of the whole country.—From Woodrow Wilson's Speech Accepting the Democratic Nomination.

tion of the real issues upon which the campaign will be fought this fall. I think that it is bound to strengthen Governor Wilson among the thinking people of the country."

Will Ring Through the Country.

Governor George W. Donaghey, Arkansas—"It was a great speech. It will ring through the country. It is just what he should have said. The people have never felt more confident of success since the first nomination of Grover Cleveland."

Iowa For Wilson.

Judge Martin J. Wade, Iowa—"For the first time since the state was admitted to the Union Iowa will this year give its electoral vote to the Democratic nominee for president."

Jeffersonian to the Core.

John A. Dix, Governor of New York—"Governor Wilson's speech of acceptance is marked with broad vision and clear thought, expressed in language every American can understand. As a business man and manufacturer, I am especially pleased with his positive and statesmanlike position on the paramount issue of tariff reform and his demand for an immediate downward revision. In sincerity, precise statement and comprehensive grasp of great principles and their application of the fundamental needs of the country the speech is Jeffersonian to the core. It contains no appeal to passion and excites no prejudice. Governor Wilson has presented to his party and to the nation clear conception of the truth that the real struggle in the pending campaign is between the concentrated powers of privilege and the aspiration of the American people to realize in their government and their economic, industrial and social relations the full measures of the principles of freedom, justice and progress, upon which the republic was founded. To all the issues and every national need Governor Wilson applies the 'rule of right and common advantage.' The reforms he advocates are far-reaching, but they are necessary, sound and practical. The speech will awaken and stir the national conscience and lead to a triumph that will restore to the people the control of their government and inaugurate a new and happier epoch in the life and development of the republic."

Worthy Leader of Progressive Americans.

Louis D. Brandeis, Boston—"Governor Wilson's speech of acceptance is the utterance of a twentieth century statesman. With keen perception he recognizes the evils from which the people are suffering and the dangers which threaten our welfare. With broad vision he points the way by which those evils may be removed and the dangers averted. He proves his understanding alike of business and of social needs and that he is a Democrat in fact as well as in name, and his courage is undoubted. Progressive Americans have in him a worthy leader."

Equable and Moderate.

New York Sun—"Governor Wilson's speech of acceptance has good luck as well as merit. It comes just in time to contrast sharply with the intemperate bedlamite rant of Th. Denatus Africanus Ferox. And, if without contempt of campus it may be said, though written by a college president very recently retired, it is in the English language, not anaemic and seldom with suspicion of priggishness or donnishness, though it has an air, a certain academic distinction of its own. What will please everybody who has a living to make is Governor Wilson's equable and moderate tone. Governor Wilson is for repair, not for destruction."

Partnership of the People.

New York Times—"It is applicable. The dominant thought, the very soul of his discourse, is the common interest of all the people, their partnership in our activities and our prosperity. The partnership idea comes from his mind not as a sublimated political theory, but as a practical, immediate remedy."

Straight to the Heart.

New York World—"Woodrow Wilson's speech of acceptance is the simplest, clearest, sunniest statement of high public purpose this country has known in a generation. Without passion, without invective, without abuse, without partisan bitterness, without denunciation, without egotism, without demagoguery, he has driven straight to the heart of the supreme issue of American institutions—the partnership between government and privilege."

POULTRY

KEEP LITTLE ONES GROWING

Young Chicks, When Allowed to Range, Are Too Often Neglected—and Become Stunted.

(By N. E. CHAPMAN, Poultryman, Minnesota College of Agriculture.)

Most chicks are well fed and cared for while their mothers are confined in coops; but when allowed to range regular feeding is too often neglected, and as a result growth is retarded and they become what is termed "stunted." It appears from statistics furnished by produce dealers that but seven per cent. of spring chicks marketed weigh four pounds December 1. By this time all the spring stock of the general purpose breeds, like the Rocks, Wyandottes, Orpingtons and Reds, should average at least six pounds live weight. Plymouth Rocks have been made to weigh seven pounds dressed, at Thanksgiving time, by judicious feeding for growth and development while on range.

When the chicks are weaned at six or eight weeks and are on range, their grain ration, with grit and charcoal, may be supplied in hoppers. The hoppers should be so placed or so constructed that the old fowls will not rob the chicks or drive them away. A small inclosure, made of lath and covered with wire, will admit the chicks and keep others from frightening or molesting the chicks while eating. Coops of ample space should be furnished, well ventilated, but secure from the depredation of night prowlers. The coops, utensils and surroundings should be kept scrupulously clean and sanitary and the flock kept free of vermin.

Cracked corn is one of the best grain feeds for growing poultry. When new corn begins to harden, whether sweet or field corn, it may be "whittled" or shaved from the cob for the eager chicks. On range they will secure bugs, worms and grasshoppers, and pick up grit and bone-making material.

When they have reached full height all those intended for market should be put in fattening crates and fed ground feed and skim milk for three weeks. An average of two pounds per head may be added to the weight of fowls, old and young, by this method at a cost of about five cents a pound. By all means keep the chicks growing, and fatten them before putting them on the market.

PARTITION IN CHICKEN COOP

Found Especially Convenient in Fencing Fowls Toward Door at Either End of Pen.

A good retaining pen from which to sell poultry may be had by building a coop of the desired size and placing in it a sliding partition for use in forcing the fowls toward the door at either end, enabling a person to take out one at a time.

The sliding partition may be used for dividing the pen into two compartments by placing the partition in the center of the coop, says a writer in the Popular Mechanics. The pole which runs from the center of the sliding partition through a hole at one end of the cage for pulling the partition back and forth may be used also as a roost when it is desired to leave the fowls in the pen for several days for fattening purposes.

Band for Pigeons.

To place a band on a pigeon, hold the hind claw back and press the front claws through the ring; draw the ring close up to the knee joint, and then, when on a level with the extremity of the hind claw, gently pull the hind claw through the ring and the ring will be in position and will not, unless it has been placed on at too early a date, fall.
